SHINGLE OR RE-SHINGLE

Your Roof with Supertite Asphale Shingles in Sunset Blend or Blue Black

We sell and apply the only line of roofing sold or sold and applied in Calloway County, that is insured against wind, hail and cyclone, both on the shingles and roll roofing weighing 55 pounds or more. The policy is issued by an old established insurance company of unquestioned responsibility and is good in cities and towns and country, on both shingles and roll roofing, the only condition being that you apply according to directions.

Now the insurance companies operating in this state absolutely decline to insure roll roofing applied in the county and charge considerably more for that they issue policies in cities and towns than the company which insures our "Buckskin Brand." Remember we donate a five-year policy which provides for complete replacement of damage, to roof only, for a period of five years from date of application. If your roof suffers any damages from any of said causes on our brands of the specified weights we repair or replace free of all charge to you for a period of five years. This policy may be renewed by your expiration of five years for an additional period of five years for the sum of 15 cents per square for the period of five years or 3 cents per square per year.

The fact that all Buckskin roofing weighing 55 pounds or more has this insurance is an endorsement by a large insurance company of the quality of Buckskin Roofing. There is only two lines of Asphale Roofing (of the 50 or more lines made) that carry this insurance. Why buy lines that do not give you this protection. Estimates cheerfully made without obligation on your part on either material, or on application backed by our written certificate of guarantee against either defective material or workmanship. We invite your critical inspection of our merchandise and workmanship. It is not what it will cost, but what it will do that makes a roof cheap. Try yours.

ARRO-LOCK ROOFING CO. Sexton Bros., Owners

If you need a roof, you need a good roof. We sell and apply only that kind.

Faxon High School

(Too late for last week)
Mr. O. W. Barker, principal and agricultural teacher of F. H. S. attended the community fair at New Concord, Friday, acting as a judge. Mr. Barker commended the large, enthusiastic crowd, the splendid school spirit, and the excellent and varied displays. Arrangements are being made by all for the Faxon Community

Fair to be held Friday and Saturday of this week. The department of antiquated hide fair to outlive all other departments. Furniture from whatnots to corded bedsteads, implements and tools from wooden plough to hand looms, and many other things have been promised. Luncheon will be prepared by the Cooking class under the supervision of Miss Elizabeth Oliver, Home Economics instructor. Our slogan is, "Buy your lunch not only to help the school, but to get something good to eat." Jack Frost has nipped our lovely flowers, but, thanks to Mr. Barker and the agriculture boys, we have a beautiful hedge around much of our building. Mr. Barker has taught us a truly educational lesson to see beauty in the common things about us. Instead of spending some of our limited amount of money for expensive hedge stock, last spring he and the boys went to the woods and cut buckbrushes to set around the building. They will be prettier all winter than almost any nursery hedge could be.

The Faxon five met the Hardin High quintet on the Kirksey, Monday, and won by a score of 16 to 15. The game started fast with both teams fighting hard for the ball. The Faxon boys found the goal only once during the first quarter. The quarter ending with a score of 6 to 2 in favor of Hardin. Faxon then concentrated on Hardin's center who was making good shooting. In the second quarter both teams came back fighting harder for the goal than before. The quarter ended with a score of 10 to 4, Hardin still leading. The speed of the boys increased in the last half, each player doing his best. Faxon stopped short, and began to shoot from a greater distance, thereby missing several. But they were at times guarding the game ended with a tied score of 12.

The boys had to play two extra three-minute periods in order to settle the game. At the end of the first period the score was a tie of 12. Both teams came back with determination to win. Hardin made one score, and with only 15 seconds to play, Coleton dropped in from about center, making Faxon victorious. Of quite as much satisfaction as our hard-won victory, of a spate to our cause, were the remarks on the clean, sportsmanlike play displayed by our team. Such teams are constantly held up before all our athletes by our coach, Mr. McDaniel and our principal, Mr. Barker. The Faxon people attending the basketball games, which ended Kirksey's Fair day, report in enjoyable evening. The beautiful and original displays were remarkable.

Forrest Pogue, Sr., Marion game warden for the western section of Kentucky, and C. S. Mr. Pogue stated that a special effort would be made to catch hunters who shot quail before the opening of the season and that special emphasis would be placed on conviction of those who sold quail.

Concord News

(Too late for last week)
We were reminded of olden times before the Detroit fever hit the county when Friday all the surrounding communities met at the Concord fair. The wonderful displays convinced us that Calloway County isn't such a poverty stricken place after all, and everyone went home feeling fine after meeting and chatting with old friends whom they had not seen in years. A negro minstrel was enjoyed in the gymnasium Friday night. Misses Annie Blacklock, Estelle Louisa and Mr. Clifford Blacklock were supper guests of Miss Etha Brimman Friday night. Mr. and Mrs. Tom Steele were greeted with and news on their return from the fair. Their daughter, Mrs. Loyd Parker was seriously ill of spinal meningitis, so the parents rushed to her bedside in Detroit. Mr. Tom Patterson, who has had a rather severe attack of heart trouble, is much better. His children, Mable, Quintus, Charlotte, Juanita and Warren have been in the past week, but all have returned to Louisville, except Warren who will not return to Detroit soon. Mrs. Ike Wilkerson has been brought home from the hospital;

THE LEDGER & TIMES

Consolidation of The Murray Ledger, The Galloway Times and The Times-Herald, October 30, 1929.
Published By The Galloway County Publishing Co., Inc.
North Fourth Street, Murray, Ky.

Joe T. Lovett

Editor

Entered at the Postoffice, Murray, Ky., as second class mail matter.

Subscription Rates:—In First Congressional District and Henry and Stewart Counties, Tenn., $1.00 a year; elsewhere, $1.50.
Advertising Rates and information about Galloway county market furnished upon application.

The Ledger & Times, is dedicated to fair, impartial and conscientious service to Galloway county; subservient to no master but the people of the county.

The Milk Controversy

The Ledger & Times, possessing no experts on milk or anything else, does not undertake to decide between the merits of pasteurized and raw milk. There is unquestionably points of worth on each side and it is put up to the individual reader to decide for himself.

The articles recently published in favor of pasteurization were printed because we were asked to do so. Likewise, we were asked to print an article in favor of raw milk. Both arguments were interpreted fairly and it was entirely proper for them to have their say.

The Ledger & Times is always glad to give space to opinions of its readers. One of our basic policies is that each side in any question shall have the privilege of expressing its views and its arguments through the columns of this paper. All we require is that the subject be of general public interest and that the writers confine themselves to the subject and be reasonable in their demands for space.

The freedom of the press and freedom of speech are two of the most inviolable American rights and the Ledger & Times is actively interested in keeping them.

Another Consolidation

The consolidation of the Parker and Beale bakeries, through purchase of the latter by the former, is merely another example that the modern business trend is that resources must be merged and scattered efforts consolidated. The old fear of monopoly has long since ceased to be active in determining the public's attitude toward any particular business.

Back in the '30's, even the government itself took a hand in breaking up the trusts which, like the famed Jugernaut of India, were crushing the life out of the people. But that is changed. We have found out that instead of meaning unfair advantages and abuses that mergers promise better and more complete service.

Newspaper consolidations have progressed to the point where cities with two newspapers are rare indeed, even in communities of 100,000.

Modern business finds it a large enough task to meet the increasingly complex demands of service without diverting their efforts to overcoming competition. Efficiency is the keynote and rather than increasing it, competition often strangles it.

Over a Billion Deadly Germs in a Single Drop of Water

Germs are so small that some can be as many as one billion in a single drop of water. A single drop of water, if it gets into your blood, may make you so sick you will be in bed for weeks—may cause the loss of a limb through blood poisoning—may even infect you with that most dreadful and fatal of diseases, lockjaw.

Just because you can see no dirt in a cut does not mean that it is clean. You cannot see germs. The only safe and sure thing to do, is to thoroughly wash every cut, no matter how small, with Lapid-Boraxone, to kill the germs, and then dust it with Boraxone Powder, to hasten the healing. Lapid-Boraxone costs 30 cents, 60 cents, $1.25 and $1.50; Boraxone Powder, 20 cents and 60 cents, and can be had at Dale, Stubblefield & Co.

MURRAY, KENTUCKY

JUST JOTS

By Joe

Robert Carney, local manager for the Ledger & Times, has been here by W. Vernon Hale. The paper is a publication of the Sarasota high school, where O. T. Hale, former Murray merchant, now makes his home. Harry Hale, son of Mr. Hale's brother, is editor of the paper.

The story follows: "Giant rays, called devil fish by fishermen, were caught in the Gulf waters off the coast of local anglers, and landed the first of the season."

The first was estimated to weigh about four thousand, five hundred pounds, its dimensions being fifteen feet from the tip of one pectoral fin to the tip of the other, length nine feet, and thickness of its body two feet. The ray resembles a sawfish, somewhat in shape, but is many times larger. The second ray, slightly smaller than the first, was on exhibition at the city pier on Sunday afternoon, the 20th, and attracted many curious and doubting people.

Mr. H. L. Ferguson, taxidermist, while skinning and cutting up the devil fish, preparatory to mounting it for the Brown Marine Museum at Des Moines, Iowa, discovered in its stomach a thirty-pound kingfish and many smaller fish, mostly angel fish. The liver, estimated to weigh 150 pounds, was approximately two feet long, one and one-half feet broad, and ten inches thick. This gives an idea of the monster's great size. Its skin was almost one inch thick in places, and about one-fourth to three-eighths inches thick over all.

"Finding abundant food in these waters, it had four inches of blubber fat in addition to its compact muscles, which were laid in layers and each covered by a sheath."

The third "sea devil" was the "murex" caught, having dimensions of 17 feet in width, 14 feet plus in length, and about four feet from eye to eye. It will be mounted for the museum at the University in Gainesville.

SICK AT HIS STOMACH

"I WAS suffering from stomach trouble in 1917," says Mr. C. K. Nelson, a resident of Murray, Ky. "I had a long and painful experience with a shortness of breath. There seemed to be a heavy weight in the pit of my stomach, and quite a bit of nausea, yet I couldn't vomit. I tried different remedies, yet I suffered on just the same. When in West Virginia on a work train, I was in such a condition that I just gave up and came home. I could not stand to work, in my condition. Some one told me about Black-Drageh, started taking it in small doses after meals. It helped me, and I went back to work."

Florida School Paper Describes Huge Fish

An interesting story of the capture of a monster Devil Fish, off the coast of Florida, is told in a copy of the Sarasota Journal, received here by W. Vernon Hale. The paper is a publication of the Sarasota high school, where O. T. Hale, former Murray merchant, now makes his home. Harry Hale, son of Mr. Hale's brother, is editor of the paper.

The story follows: "Giant rays, called devil fish by fishermen, were caught in the Gulf waters off the coast of local anglers, and landed the first of the season."

The first was estimated to weigh about four thousand, five hundred pounds, its dimensions being fifteen feet from the tip of one pectoral fin to the tip of the other, length nine feet, and thickness of its body two feet. The ray resembles a sawfish, somewhat in shape, but is many times larger. The second ray, slightly smaller than the first, was on exhibition at the city pier on Sunday afternoon, the 20th, and attracted many curious and doubting people.

Mr. H. L. Ferguson, taxidermist, while skinning and cutting up the devil fish, preparatory to mounting it for the Brown Marine Museum at Des Moines, Iowa, discovered in its stomach a thirty-pound kingfish and many smaller fish, mostly angel fish. The liver, estimated to weigh 150 pounds, was approximately two feet long, one and one-half feet broad, and ten inches thick. This gives an idea of the monster's great size. Its skin was almost one inch thick in places, and about one-fourth to three-eighths inches thick over all.

"Finding abundant food in these waters, it had four inches of blubber fat in addition to its compact muscles, which were laid in layers and each covered by a sheath."

The third "sea devil" was the "murex" caught, having dimensions of 17 feet in width, 14 feet plus in length, and about four feet from eye to eye. It will be mounted for the museum at the University in Gainesville.

Stella Gossip

Arthur Jones and Miss Nancy Katie Barber were married Nov. 2 in Paris, Tenn. Buren Cahay and Miss Laura Farmer were attendants.

Mrs. Minnie Parker visited her children in St. Louis last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Parker, of St. Louis, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Cathey, this week. Jim said that he and Mrs. Parker, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Dixon enjoyed reading the Ledger & Times and "Eagle" letters in their St. Louis home.

DIPHTHERIA

There she lay, a sweet innocent babe, thinking against the deadly membrane which gradually tightened its grip in her little throat.

DIPHTHERIA ANTITOXIN may save her, will save her if given in time. But why should she have diphtheria at all? Stupidly because in health she was not protected with that great preventive, TOXIN-ANTITOXIN.

Diphtheria is caused by germs growing in the throat where they cause the formation of a grayish material called a "membrane" which may become so large and thick as to block the air tubes.

The danger from diphtheria, however, does not lie mainly in suffocation. Diphtheria serum also produce a poison or "toxin" which, carried by the blood to all parts of the body, makes the child dangerously ill, damages the organs and tissues and may result in paralysis or heart failure.

Diphtheria is a disease of childhood. Over 80 per cent of all deaths from this disease occur in children under 5 years of age.

With the advent of November we are in one of the most dangerous seasons of the year, for during this month, and December and January, diphtheria takes its heaviest toll of health and life.

Diphtheria can be prevented through the use of TOXIN-ANTITOXIN. This is a colorless liquid which looks, and is, as clean and harmless as the purest water. It is prepared in strict accordance with the Regulation of the United States Public Health Service and is subject to rigid test before released for use.

TOXIN-ANTITOXIN is given in three small doses at intervals of one week. The ideal time to give this preventive is at the age of 6 months. No ill effects follow its administration and it leaves no sore or scar.

Antitoxin is used in the treatment of diphtheria. It is the weapon with which the disease must be fought once it gets a start in the child's system. It is an antidote to the diphtheria poison and is a cure for the disease if given in time.

PARENTS, do you realize that this scourge of childhood can be prevented? Do you realize that through your cooperation diphtheria can be completely eliminated? Do you realize that the responsibility for having your children protected against this disease rest with you?

Only two possible reasons now exist for a child having or dying with diphtheria. One is ignorance on the part of parents and the other is procrastination. Aside from the actual death itself there is no more tragic situation today than for parents to have to ask themselves, "why did we let it happen?" Such deaths represent sacrifices placed on the altar of parental negligence.

Dangerous Business

Our stomach and digestive systems are lined with membrane, which is delicate, sensitive and easily injured. It is a dangerous business, then, to use medicines containing harsh drugs, acids or minerals, when we are already irritated. In addition to the possibility of injuring the linings of our digestive system, these medicines give only temporary relief and may prove harmful for the future. The safe way to relieve constipation is with Herbie's. The cathartic that is made from berries and acts in the way nature intended. You can get Herbie's at Dale, Stubblefield & Co.
